HALE | MANCHESTER | GB

SALARY: 30,000 GBP per annum gross

PHS JOB 3495

A truly exceptional and genuinely rare opportunity has arisen to join a well-established, highly respected, and long-standing private household in Hale, Cheshire — a beautiful and prestigious residential area within comfortable reach of Manchester city centre. The household comprises a busy professional couple supported by a dedicated and loyal household team including a long-serving housekeeper, live-in cook, and external gardeners.

The family is renowned for its outstanding staff retention — with team members remaining in post for many years, sometimes even decades — reflecting a stable, fair, considerate, and genuinely supportive working environment built on mutual respect and professionalism. This position has become available following the well-earned retirement of a deeply valued team member after twelve years of devoted service.

This role would suit an experienced, practical, and genuinely grounded Domestic Helper who understands the nuances and expectations of working within a private household setting, who takes quiet pride in being useful, attentive, and thoroughly reliable, and who naturally operates with discretion, professionalism, and respect for family boundaries.

The successful candidate will be someone who knows instinctively how to conduct themselves within a high-calibre private residence — following clear instructions with care and precision, maintaining absolute confidentiality, and adapting seamlessly to the rhythms and routines of the household without the need for micromanagement. This is not a formal chauffeur role, but rather a versatile, hands-on position for a proactive and adaptable individual who is comfortable combining driving responsibilities, light property maintenance, and general household support duties with ease and efficiency.

A full UK driving licence is absolutely essential, as the role involves regularly driving the Principals in their luxury vehicles, running household errands, and managing all vehicle-related logistics. Experience driving high-end or luxury vehicles is strongly preferred, and the successful candidate must be comfortable maintaining these vehicles to an immaculate standard at all times.
