

PERMANENT FULL-TIME LIVE-IN NANNY

EDGBASTON | BIRMINGHAM | GB

Salary: £70,000 Gross per Year

PHS Job 3634

A warm and professional family based in Edgbaston, Birmingham, is seeking an experienced Live-In Nanny to provide attentive and nurturing care for their two young daughters, aged five and one. This is an excellent opportunity for a career nanny seeking a long-term position within a friendly private household.

The role will primarily be based in Birmingham and will involve a combination of shared care with the mother and sole charge when required. The family is looking for someone who can provide a calm and consistent presence for the children whilst working naturally alongside the mother and wider household team. The family is initially considering a traditional five-day working pattern of approximately 60 hours per week, although they are open to discussing a rota arrangement with the right candidate should this prove a better long-term fit for both parties.

The eldest child attends school locally and enjoys creative play, arts and crafts and outdoor activities. The youngest is a happy and content one-year-old. The nanny will take responsibility for all aspects of the children's daily routines, including nursery duties, preparing healthy meals, children's laundry and wardrobes, organising bedrooms and play areas, arranging outings and playdates, and providing stimulating, age-appropriate activities.

The eldest child's continued learning will also be supported by the nanny, with an emphasis on creating an engaging and encouraging environment around her schooling and interests. An understanding of eczema would be beneficial, as the eldest experiences occasional flare-ups. Although Birmingham will be the principal base, the family travels internationally and the nanny should be comfortable accompanying them when required, particularly during school holidays. High-standard accommodation is provided whilst travelling and overtime is paid where applicable.

The family already has additional household support in place and the successful nanny will become part of a professional and well-established household team. They are looking for someone discreet, observant and emotionally intelligent, with a warm but understated personality and a genuine understanding of professional boundaries.
