

PERMANENT LIVE-OUT DOMESTIC COUPLE
SANTA GERTRUDES | IBIZA | SPAIN

Salary: €90,000–€110,000 Net per Year, depending on experience

PHS Job 3657

A private family is seeking an experienced and professional Domestic Couple to take responsibility for the care and smooth running of their beautiful villa in Santa Gertrudes, Ibiza.

The property is the family's second home and is primarily occupied during the summer, Christmas and Easter periods. When the family is away, the couple will maintain the villa to an exceptional standard, with a lighter and more flexible working schedule focused on keeping the property immaculate and ready for the family's return. When the family is in residence, the couple will be expected to demonstrate greater flexibility and adapt their schedule to meet the household's needs.

The ideal couple will have at least five years of experience working in Ultra High Net Worth private households and will bring excellent references from previous employers. They should be confident working independently, taking initiative and managing their responsibilities to a consistently high standard without close supervision. Discretion, reliability and a positive approach are particularly important to the family. Due to the household being formal the family will provide a uniform for the couple. The principals are also offering formal employment with standard holiday entitlement.

Housekeeping will form the core of the position, including detailed cleaning, laundry, ironing, wardrobe care and general upkeep of the villa. The family prefers eco-friendly cleaning products with minimal fragrance, so previous experience working with low-scent or environmentally conscious products would be an advantage.

Cooking will also form part of the role, with the couple expected to prepare fresh, healthy meals for the family. A good knowledge of Italian and European cuisine, together with some familiarity with Asian cuisine, would be appreciated. There are no known food allergies or dietary restrictions within the household.

This is an excellent opportunity for an experienced Domestic Couple to join a private household in Ibiza on a long-term basis, offering a varied role with a quieter pace when the family is away and a more hands-on level of service when the property is occupied.
